In the case of make-up exams, students will need a university-approved excuse for the absence. It is the student’s obligation to provide the university excuse and to arrange a make-up exam time and date no later than 1 week after the excused absence with the instructor. Any missed exam without an excused absence will be assigned zero percent. More than three unexcused absences will make it extremely difficult to effectively learn the material and to pass the exams.

Turn cell phones off before coming to class. Do not leave the class before the time is up unless it is an emergency.

Academic Honesty and Student Discipline: Please review the relevant section of the UNT System Regents' Rules and Regulations outlining the Academic Honesty Code and the Code of Student Discipline. Scholastic dishonesty includes but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.

The Department of Business expects students to pursue their academic work with honesty and integrity, and violations of the academic honesty and discipline codes will be dealt within the appropriate manner. It is a practice of the Department of Economics to investigate medical and other excuses for missing exams or assignments to verify their legitimacy.

Americans with Disabilities Act: UNT does not discriminate on the basis of disability in the recruitment and admission of students, the recruitment and employment of faculty and staff, and the operation of any of its programs and activities, as specified by federal laws and regulations. Copies of this document may be obtained in the Office for Students with Disabilities. The student has the responsibility of informing the course instructor (at the beginning of the course) of any disabling condition which will require modification to avoid discrimination. As a faculty member, I am required by law to provide "reasonable accommodation" to students with disabilities, so as not to discriminate on the basis of that disability. Student responsibility primarily rests with informing faculty at the beginning of the semester and in providing authorized documentation through designated administrative channels.
