

Our mission is to support and advocate for laws and legal systems that redress the founding failures of our Constitution, strengthen our democratic legitimacy, uphold the rule of law, and realize the promise of equality for all, including people of color, women, LGBTQ+ people, people with disabilities, and other historically excluded communities.

AMLSA addresses the spiritual, political, and social needs of all UNT Dallas College of Law students, with an emphasis on students of the Islamic faith. Furthermore, we are dedicated to enhancing the diversity of the law school by increasing awareness of the legal issues that affect the Muslim community. Finally, the AMLSA will provide a forum for career networking for UNT Dallas College of Law students, work with other student organization to facilitate dialogue, organize events to enrich student life, and offer outreach to the Muslim community.

We are the UNT Dallas College of Law's Asian Pacific American Law Student Association (APALSA). APASLA is dedicated to supporting, educating, and representing the Asian American Pacific Islander (AAPI) community both on and off campus. Through participation in networking and social events, we promote awareness of the AAPI identity and become a welcoming environment to all students. Major events we routinely host are collaborations with Dallas Asian American Bar Association (DAABA) through their mentorship program, group study sessions, and contribute to the community through various

The Business, Bankruptcy & Commercial Law Society (BBCLS) connects students interested in corporate law, bankruptcy, and commercial litigation. Through speaker events, panels, and networking opportunities with firms and judges, the society helps members build knowledge and connections in these fields. BBCLS welcomes students at all experience levels, whether you're set on a career in this area or simply exploring your options. Join us to grow your network and gain practical insight into this dynamic area of the legal industry!

The Black Law Students Association (BLSA) at UNT Dallas College of Law is a chapter of the National Black Law Students Association (NBLSA), founded in 1968 to articulate and promote the needs and goals of Black law students and to effectuate change in the legal community. UNTD BLSA is committed to increasing the number of culturally responsible Black and minority attorneys who excel academically, succeed professionally, and positively impact their communities. Our chapter has a history of civic engagement, including our 2022 partnership with the Young Black Lawyers Organizing Coalition on the "Pass Her the Gavel" campaign in support of Justice Ketanji Brown Jackson's Supreme Court nomination. We provide our members with mentorship, networking opportunities with Dallas-area attorneys and judges, and community service initiatives throughout the school year. BLSA welcomes all students who share our mission of advocacy, leadership, and community impact.

The Christian Legal Society at UNT Dallas College of Law is a student organization committed to helping law students grow in their relationship with Jesus Christ while preparing for careers in the legal profession. We seek to build a welcoming community through Bible studies, prayer, fellowship, service opportunities, and professional development. Our organization encourages members to integrate their faith in Jesus with the study and practice of law by exploring issues of justice, ethics, leadership, and service. Our mission is to equip future attorneys to honor Christ through lives of integrity, compassion, and excellence in their profession and communities.

The Criminal Law Society at UNT Dallas College of Law is dedicated to educating and connecting students who are interested in criminal law and the criminal justice system. Our organization provides opportunities for members to learn from experienced prosecutors, criminal defense attorneys, judges, and other legal professionals through guest speakers, networking events, and educational programs. We strive to help students develop practical knowledge and professional relationships that will prepare them for careers in criminal law. Our goal is to foster a collaborative community where students can explore all aspects of criminal practice while growing academically and professionally.

The Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy Studies is a group of conservatives and libertarians interested in the current state of the legal order. It is founded on the principles that the state exists to preserve freedom, that the separation of governmental powers is central to our Constitution, and that it is emphatically the province and duty of the judiciary to say what the law is, not what it should be. The Society seeks both to promote an awareness of these principles and to further their application through its activities.

The UNT Dallas College of Law Hispanic Law Students Association (HLSA), is dedicated to promoting, educating, and preserving Hispanic culture while advocating for the social, academic, and professional success of Hispanic and other underrepresented law students. Through mentorship, networking, professional development, and community engagement, HLSA fosters an inclusive environment that empowers its members to excel in law school and beyond. The organization is committed to increasing diversity within the legal profession, strengthening connections between students and the legal community, and developing future leaders who will serve and uplift their communities

The Intellectual Property Society at UNT Dallas College of Law connects students interested in the laws that protect creativity, innovation, technology, brands, and business ideas. The organization introduces members to intellectual property practice areas, including trademarks, copyrights, patents, trade secrets, entertainment, and emerging technologies. Through educational programs, networking opportunities, and conversations with legal professionals, members can explore career paths and develop practical knowledge of the field. No science or technical background is required—only an interest in the ideas and innovations shaping our world.

The Jewish Law Students Association (JLSA) is dedicated to building an inclusive community through cultural, social, and educational events. Whether you're Jewish or simply looking for a welcoming and supportive community, JLSA welcomes everyone.

We promote inclusivity, professional development, mentorship, and community-building within the legal LGBTQIA+ community. Our mission is to create a supportive space where all students can thrive regardless of identity. All are welcome!

The Sports and Entertainment Law Society provides students with the opportunity to explore the exciting fields of sports and entertainment law. Through bi-weekly meetings, members hear from practicing attorneys and industry professionals who share valuable insights into legal careers, current issues, and emerging trends in the field. In addition to professional development, the organization hosts a variety of social events, including Super Bowl and Grammy Awards watch parties, as well as outings to sporting events, giving members the chance to network and connect with others who share similar interests.

VLSA

Veteran Law Student Association

VLSA's purpose is to create a strong and supportive community for Veterans and Military Affiliated Students on campus. VLSA is dedicated to promoting academic achievement, professional development, and camaraderie while honoring the service and sacrifices of the military community. VLSA also strives to connect members with alumni and share networking events.

The Wills, Trusts, & Estates Society (WTES) connects students interested in estate planning with practical, hands-on learning opportunities beyond the classroom. Through initiatives like our annual Fall Wills Clinic, members work alongside faculty and community partners to provide real client services while building practical drafting and counseling skills. The Society also hosts guest speakers to help students explore career paths in trusts and estates law. Whether you're set on an estate planning career or simply want exposure to this practice area, WTES welcomes students at every stage of law school.
