Course Evaluation Methods

This course will utilize the following instruments to determine student grades and proficiency of the learning outcomes for the course.

Attendance and Participation:
During face-to-face and online, students are expected to be prepared for discussions and questions related to the assigned information. Regular and prompt class attendance and active class participation are required in order to meet the requirements of this course. Instructional methods utilized in this course include class discussions, lectures, online, group discussions, final exam and oral presentations.

In order to receive the AEL certificate, you must attend all of the sessions of the course. Requirements of the Texas Education Agency do not permit awarding the certificate to anyone who has missed any part of the training. The AEL certificate is the prerequisite for certification in the Texas Teacher Evaluation and Support System, or T-TESS. Following verification that you have completed the required AEL training and paid the $75 certificate fee to the financial services office, you may apply for your AEL certificate from the Educational Service Center (ESC) Region 13 website. Instructions on how to retrieve your AEL certificate will be provided in class. You may be asked to do extra reading or visit websites related to the AEL assignments.

Reflection Essay
If there are two phrases that are ubiquitous in the education lexicon, these are they: "I have high expectations and all children can learn." As an educator, develop an essay describing what these phrases mean to you. It should be no longer than three double spaced typed pages. The paper will be presented orally in class. The essay must include a discussion of the following:

- Define high expectations.
- In the context of schooling, define what the phrase “all children” means to you.
- Now, reflect upon your professional practice and discuss how it is congruent with previously stated definition.
- The strength of this assignment is contingent upon students’ candor; hence, there will be no right or wrong answers (political correctness will be frowned upon).
- Class should be prepared to interact as assignment is presented.

Class Project:
Each student is expected to present and lead a class discussion regarding the central focus of identified topics. The presentation should be delivered by utilizing PowerPoint. Copies should be made available to all members of the class. Personal experiences and observations should be shared during the presentation as well as perceived challenges and solutions.

Course Project:
Students are expected to maintain a course portfolio. The course portfolio is intended to be a resource document that facilitates best practices in education reform and leadership. This document should contain notes from lectures, guest speakers and class handouts as well as discussion notes from activities completed in class.

Online Class Assignments:

Students will sign in prior to our second class meeting and respond to an introduction prompt. At least one class meeting will take place online. Assignments and discussions are located within each Learning Module under Course Tools. Expectations and assignments will be delineated online. Students will have a week to participate. Assignments must be submitted during the week designated in syllabus. The syllabus is located on blackboard. Online assignments and discussions are due on each Sunday by midnight following the week that they were made available. There are four assignments worth 10 points each and 4 discussions worth 10 points each. The face-to-face activities total 120 points equaling a total of 200 points for the final grade.

Professional Paper (Review of Literature):

Students will develop a professional paper (APA style) regarding critical issues in school reform. The body of the paper should be five or six pages (double-spaced) in length. A copy of the paper will be submitted to the instructor. Highlights of the paper will be presented orally in class and handouts made available to all students. Students are expected to demonstrate the applicability of their research findings on school campuses and how those same findings impact school transformation. Review course goals before preparing your paper. All topics must have approval of the instructor prior to development. Papers submitted for previous courses will not be accepted. The paper should have the following sections:

A. The problem or issue: A description of the leadership problem/issue and why it is important for your school, or schools in general, to address.
B. A literature review: A discussion of the research and important ideas about this issue/problem. Include recent research and writing. Research should be within the last 10 years (unless citing foundational research for the topic which can be older) and at least seven sources must be cited.
C. How this problem affects or is affected by other systems and aspects of systems: the school district as a whole, government, families, etc. You will use some information from your literature review and from your own experience.
D. Relationship of the problem and your recommendations to concepts of ethics, integrity, and fairness.
E. A conclusion and recommendations: At the end of the paper, summarize and make recommendations for your school or schools in general and tell how you plan to apply this information.
F. Your paper will be presented in class and posted in the assignment section of Blackboard.

Use American Psychological Association (APA—6th edition) style for the paper, include an abstract, and provide a reference list with at least seven sources. The paper must demonstrate the highest standards of written expression. Use APA Style consistently in this paper. Be sure you apply the requirements of APA carefully. You may use the websites below in addition to the APA Manual (6th ed.) to ensure that you use APA correctly. In addition to the content of your paper, you will be graded on the use of APA, grammar, punctuation, and flow as well as for your synthesis of the sources and analysis of the relevant importance to educational leadership.

Field Assignments:
Two brief field assignments will be completed in this course. Details of the assignments will be delineated in class. Essentially each student will be expected to (1) solicit feedback from grade level or PLC team members regarding a specific question and (2) interview colleagues on campus regarding two educational concepts. The results of your finding will be shared and discussed in class. A written copy of findings will be presented to the instructor.
Final Exam:
Student will be required to complete a comprehensive essay exam.

Course Grading:
Course materials must be submitted on time to receive full credit. The awarding of grades is not automatic and the judgment of the instructor will determine whether or not each assignment is completed satisfactorily. Neatness, thoroughness, and care in preparing course materials are required.

General criteria for evaluating student work are:
1. Construction of Knowledge: Students successfully interpret, analyze, evaluate, or synthesize information.
2. Depth of Understanding: Student understanding of course content and themes is relatively complex and deep, and they demonstrate that understanding through elaborated communication.
3. Connection to Practice: Students successfully connect course content to practice and their specific context. They explore implications that create value and significance for knowledge.

University Policies and Procedures

Students with Disabilities (ADA Compliance):

Chapter 7(7.004) Disability Accommodations for Students

The University of North Texas at Dallas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodations must first register with the Disability Services Office (DSO) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the DSO will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, DSO notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet/communicate with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letters during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information see the Disability Services Office website at http://www.untdallas.edu/disability. You may also contact them by phone at 972-338-1777; by email at UNTDdisability@untdallas.edu or at Building 2, room 204.
Blackboard Learn Accessibility Statement:
University of North Texas at Dallas is committed to ensuring its online and hybrid courses are usable by all students and faculty including those with disabilities. If you encounter any difficulties with technologies, please contact our ITSS Department. To better assist them, you would want to have the operating system, web browser and information on any assistive technology being used. Blackboard Learn course management system's accessibility statement is also provided: http://www.blackboard.com/Platforms/Learn/Resources/Accessibility.aspx

NOTE: Additional instructional technology tools, such as Turnitin, Respondus, Panopto, and publisher cartridge content (i.e. MyLab, Pearson, etc.) may NOT be fully ADA compliant. Please contact our Disability Office should you require additional assistance utilizing any of these tools.

Course Evaluation Policy:
Student’s evaluations of teaching effectiveness is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT Dallas. This short survey will be made available to you at the end of the semester, providing you a chance to comment on how this class is taught. I am very interested in the feedback I get from students, as I work to continually improve my teaching. I consider students’ evaluations to be an important part of your participation in this class.

Assignment Policy: (According to the instructor’s discretion while working in concert with the division/program’s guidelines).

Exam Policy: (Online exams and the ability to retake is solely at the instructor’s discretion). NOTE: Online exams may be proctored on campus per instructor’s discretion.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarizing, fabrication of information or citations, facilitating acts of dishonesty by others, having unauthorized possession of examinations, submitting work of another person or work previously used without informing the instructor, or tampering with the academic work of other students.

Web-based Plagiarism Detection: Please be aware in some online or hybrid courses, students may be required to submit written assignments to Turnitin, a web-based plagiarism detection service, or another method. If submitting to Turnitin, please remove your title page and other personal information.

Classroom Policies

Online Attendance and Participation:
The University attendance policy is in effect for this course. Class attendance in the Blackboard classroom and participation is expected because the class is designed as a shared learning experience, and because essential information not in the textbook will be discussed in the discussion board. Online presence and participation in all class discussions is essential to the integration of course material and your ability to demonstrate proficiency.
Attendance for this online or hybrid course is considered when you are logged in and active in Blackboard, i.e., posting assignments, taking quizzes, or completing Discussion Boards. To maintain financial aid award eligibility, activity must occur before the census date of the session or term of the course. Refer to http://www.untdallas.edu/registrar for specific dates. If you are absent/not active in the course shell, it is YOUR responsibility to let the instructor know immediately, upon your return, the reason for your absence if it is to be excused. All instructors must follow university policy 7.005 covering excused absences; however, it is the instructor’s discretion, as outlined in the course syllabus, of how unexcused absences may or may not count against successful completion of the course.

Inclement Weather and Online Classes: Online classes may or may not be effected by campus closures due to inclement weather. Unless otherwise notified by your instructor via e-mail, online messaging, or online announcement, students should assume that assignments are due as scheduled.

Online “Netiquette:”
In any social interaction, certain rules of etiquette are expected and contribute to more enjoyable and productive communication. Emails, Discussion Board messages and/or any other forms of written communication in the online environment should use proper “netiquette” (i.e., no writing in all caps (usually denotes yelling), no curse words, and no “flaming” messages (angry, personal attacks).

Racial, ethnic, or gender slurs will not be tolerated, nor will pornography of any kind.

Any violation of online netiquette may result in a loss of points or removal from the course and referral to the Dean of Students, including warnings and other sanctions in accordance with the University’s policies and procedures. Refer to the Student Code of Student Rights Responsibilities and Conduct at http://www.untdallas.edu/osa/policies. Respect is a given principle in all online communication. Therefore, please be sure to proofread all of your written communication prior to submission.

Diversity/Tolerance Policy:
Students are encouraged to contribute their perspectives and insights to class discussions in the online environment. However, offensive & inappropriate language (swearing) and remarks offensive to others of particular nationalities, ethnic groups, sexual preferences, religious groups, genders, or other ascribed statuses will not be tolerated. Disruptions which violate the Code of Student Conduct will be referred to the Dean of Students as the instructor deems appropriate.

Technology Requirements: In order to successfully access the materials in an online or hybrid course, UNT Dallas advises that your computer be equipped with the minimum system requirements.
